ABOUT ME

My name is Cheryl Leung.
I am a Front-End Developer with a passion to develop great, functional, aesthetically beautiful and accessible websites while also providing a great UX/UI experience.

I have always thrived working with people, due to my many years in client/customer related employments. I bring these skills with me as a developer along with a strong set of technical skills.

I am very excited to join a collaborative team and to continue to grow my personal and technical skillsets.
